“Can it be a little bit more?”

The tyre market has become more and more turbulent and short-lived. The increasing changes and globalization challenges all market participants. Especially in such times you need fair and reliable partners. 70 years ago, ANDIA International GmbH emerged from the founding of Küke & Lisson OHG. Andia always proved in the international tyre trade, that a clear and transparent company strategy, as well as reliable statements TOGETHER lead to long-term success. For client oriented communication, international customers have native speakers available.
